A Practical Business College.

The Iron City College is an institution that can not be too warmly commended. It is a thoroughly organized, efficiently officered and admirably adapted practical Business College, without a rival in all its peculiar features, as the most casual visitor to its well appointed halls, will discover at a glance. The great value of its system of actual Business training can not be fully realized until one has had an opportunity to carefully inspect its workings. We have no hesitation in saying that a more thoroughly efficient practical business college can not be found in the United States.—Pittsburgh Commercial.

THIRTY-NINTH CONGRESS,

(SECOND SESSION.)

WASHINGTON, December 11, 1866.

SENATE.

The suffrage bill was called up this morning.

Mr. Anthony, in a serio-comic speech, advocated the enfranchisement of negroes.

Mr. Wilson presented a petition of army officers asking an increase of pay.

Mr. Anthony offered a resolution, which was adopted, requesting the Committee on Judiciary to inquire whether any further legislation is necessary in regard to the succession to the Presidency in case of disability, death, or otherwise, of those now designated for it.

The bill to regulate suffrage in the District of Columbia was then taken up, the question being on the amendment of Mr. Cowan to strike out the word "male."

HOUSE.

Mr. Lawrence, of Ohio, reported a bill to repeal the act relating to qualification of jurors, and it was a short debate, recommitted.

The Speaker presented a communication from the President transmitting, as an answer to the resolutions of the House, various messages from the Secretary of War and Attorney General relative to the arrest and release of the rebel General Pickett, accused of murdering Lieutenant Selden, of the Signal Corps.

The bill to amend the act for the establishment of a National Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Home, as suggested by Mr. Ingersoll, was passed.

The House then considered Mr. Williams' bill regulating appointments and removals from office.

Mr. Kelly presented a memorial and resolutions from the Central Executive Committee and Republican party of Louisiana, which was referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

The memorial prays for the impeachment of the President, the abolition of the present State government and the erection of a Territorial government in Louisiana.

The credentials of Alexander Hamilton Jones, Representative elect from the seventh District of North Carolina, were referred to the Committee on Reconstruction.

Mr. Ingersoll introduced a bill to regulate the sale of coin and bullion by the Secretary of the Treasury, and moved that it be referred to the Committee of Ways and Means.

Mr. Washburne objected to the reception or reference of the bill at this time, and the Speaker declared that objection being made, the reference could not be ordered.

Mr. Wilson, from the Judiciary Committee, reported a bill, and recommended it's passage, to regulate the duties of the Clerk of the House of Representatives in preparing for the organization of the House and for other purposes. The bill provides in the first section that before the meeting of next Congress and of each succeeding Congress, the Clerk of the next preceding House of Representatives shall make a roll of the Representatives elected, and shall call the House to order; that persons claiming seats as Representatives from the States represented in the next preceding Congress, and whose credentials shall show they have been duly elected.

The second section provides that in case of vacancy in the office of Clerk of the House, or in case said officer should be absent or unable to perform his duty, those duties shall devolve upon the Sergeant-at-Arms, and in case of his inability to perform them they shall devolve upon the doorkeeper of the next preceding House of Representatives.

The third section provides that any of the officers mentioned in this bill who shall fail in its provisions shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor in office, and upon conviction shall be punished by imprisonment and hard labor not less than one year nor more than five years, in the discretion of the court.

Mr. Wilson demanded the previous question, which was seconded. The bill was then passed—yeas [illegible] nays [illegible].

Mr. Wilson, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported and recommended the passage of the bill to prevent the receipt and counting of illegal electoral votes in the election of the President and Vice President of the United States, as follows:

WHEREAS, The rebellion which was waged by a portion of the people of the United States against properly constituted authorities of the government thereof in the most wicked and revolting form, but whose organized armed forces have now been overcome, did, in its revolutionary progress, deprive the people of the several portions of the United States heretofore represented in Congress, as the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Louisiana, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Texas, of all civil government, and so disturb their political relations with the Union as to deprive them of the right to appear in Congress and Electoral colleges, and as they can be restored to their political relations to the Union only by the consent of the law making power of the United States;

And whereas it would be improper for communities thus deprived of civil government, and whose political relations to the government of the United States are so disturbed, as not to participate in the election of the President and Vice President of the United States; Therefore,

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in Congress assembled, That until the law making power of the United States shall have declared the several portions of the United States heretofore represented in Congress, as the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, and Texas, restored to their political relations to the Union, they shall not be deemed entitled to representation in the Electoral College, for the choice of President of the United States, and no electoral vote shall be received or counted from them, except as such may hereafter be so declared restored to its political relations in the union, and entitled to representation in Congress.

Mr. Wilson explained the provisions of the bill. The committee had followed a precedent, established by the 38th Congress in its joint resolution declaring that the States named, having rebelled against the United States, were in such a condition on the 8th of November, 1864, that no valid election for President and Vice President was held therein, and therefore that they were not entitled to representation in the electoral college; but the operations of that resolution was confined to the election of 1864, and the purpose of the present bill was to make a similar law to apply to all future elections until the States shall have been restored to their political relations in the Union.

Mr. Fink—But at the time that resolution was adopted we were not in the midst of war, and are we not now in the midst of peace?

Mr. Wilson—We were at that time in the midst of war, and we think the effects of that war upon the communities cited exist to-day. We hold the rebellion deprived those communities of all civil government, and being deprived of all civil government, they cannot be permitted to participate in elections for President and Vice President until they shall have been provided with civil government by Congress, and shall be restored to their proper relations to the Union.

Mr. Hull, of New York, said that without expressing an opinion on the merits of the bill, he did hope that action upon it would not be forced without giving the members an opportunity to examine and discuss it. The question was certainly a grave one, as grave as any that had yet occupied the attention of this Congress, and he was not, by any means, satisfied that the case was so clear upon precedent as it would seem from the argument of the gentleman from Iowa. It did not necessarily follow, that what was done by Congress when the rebellion was actually raging, would be a proper precedent for the action of Congress now.

Mr. Wilson said he had no desire to press action on the bill, and on his motion it was postponed and made the special order for Thursday next, when discussion will be allowed.

Mr. Lawrence reported a bill to repeal certain parts of the act approved April 30th, 1790, for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States of 1790. He said it provided that no person should be indicted, tried or punished for treason or other capital offences against the United States, unless an indictment for the offence should be found by a grand jury within three years after it shall be alleged to have been committed, and the purpose of the bill now reported was to repeal that provision, which, if it were permitted to continue in force, would soon be equivalent to a general pardon and amnesty for treasonable acts committed during the rebellion. The only questions that could arise upon the passage of this bill were, first, as to its expediency, and, second, as to the right of Congress to pass such a law. The House had already determined it was not expedient to declare general pardons and amnesty by repealing the amnesty act on the first day of the present session, and he had no doubt of the right and power of Congress to repeal those portions of the act of 1790, which, if not repealed, would be equivalent to such a declaration.

After considerable debate, and without taking the question up, the House adjourned.

SPECIAL MESSAGE.

Rebel General Pickett.

HIS APPLICATION FOR PARDON.

Did He Murder Union Prisoners?

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—The President to-day sent a message to House transmitting detailed information in regard to the rebel General Pickett, asked for at the last session. Enclosed is a letter from Attorney General Stansberry transmitting all the papers on the file relative to Pickett's application for pardon. The Attorney General says: No action has been taken on these papers, and he has no information of any proceedings instituted against Pickett for cruelty to prisoners, or any offence against the laws of war. It will be recollected that he was charged with hanging a number of United States soldiers for alleged desertion from the rebel army. Pickett's application admits having approved sentences by court martial, but he were not thus specially identified, and says his action was sanctioned by the Confederate Government, and says he willingly renews his allegiance to the United States.

General Pickett's letter to General Grant is of the same tenor, and is endorsed by Grant as follows: "Forwarded to Hon. Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, with the recommendation that clemency be extended in this case or assurance given that the law will take its course in the trial pending against G. E. Pickett. During the rebellion belligerent rights were acknowledged to the enemies of our country; and it is clear to me that the parole given by armies laying down their arms, protects them against punishment for acts lawful for any other belligerent. In the parole given by Lee's army, having been tried and convicted for the crime of desertion were Union men from North Carolina, who had found refuge within our lines and our service. The punishment was a harsh one, but it was in time of war, and where the enemy no doubt felt it necessary to retain by some power in the service of every man within their reach. General Pickett, I know personally, to be an honorable man, but in this case his judgment prompted him to what I would not be sustained, though I do not see how any good, either to the friends of the deceased or by fixing an example for the future, would be secured by it now. It would only bring up the question, whether or not the Government did not disregard the contract entered into, to secure the surrender of said rebel enemies."

(Signed) U. S. GRANT, Lieut. General

March 15th, 1866.

Secretary Stanton reports that the examination of witnesses for the proceedings of the court martial alluded to has not yet been completed. The records required have not been received. In July, 1865, the Attorney General submitted to the Secretary of War a statement, by a reliable person, recommending the arrest and trial of Pickett. Taking into consideration all the circumstances of the case, the action of the United States in the case of Mulligan and others, who had been tried and convicted by a Military Commission and the doubts cast upon the jurisdiction of such tribunals. The Secretary of War has not felt authorized to pursue the course recommended by the Judge Advocate General, until the opinion of the Supreme Court should be formally promulgated. The magnitude of the offence alleged against Pickett is such that there should be no person to counsel the participation of the tribunal to whom the trial may be committed.

(Signed.) E. M. STANTON,
Secretary of War.

Steamship Departed—Troops for California—Bill for the Sale of Gold.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The steamship Henry Chauncey sailed to-day for Aspinwall. Among her passengers were four hundred troops to reinforce the garrisons in California; also the Rev. R. Nelson and family and Miss Brown, missionaries to Japan.

A Washington dispatch says that Mr. Boutwell's bill for the sale of government gold does not appear to meet the approval of the Ways and Means Committee. The action necessarily follow, that what was done by Congress when the rebellion was actually raging, would be a proper precedent for the action of Congress now.

Mr. Wilson said he had no desire to press action on the bill, and on his motion it was postponed and made the special order for Thursday next, when discussion will be allowed.

Mr. Lawrence reported a bill to repeal certain parts of the act approved April 30th, 1790, for the punishment of certain crimes against the United States of 1790. Twenty-eight thousand one hundred and fifty acres of public lands have been disposed of at Travers City, East Saginaw, Michigan, the most of which was taken up by actual settlers under the homestead law.

If every clerk in the Attorney General's office were constantly and exclusively employed from this time to the end of the year, for ten hours per day, it would be impossible for them to collect the information called for by the House resolution requiring a statement from him of the parties in every case of pardon now of rebels to be presented.

The President has pardoned David Hawley, a private of the 12th Indiana, who was convicted at the June term of the District Supreme Court, of robbing a comrade, and sentenced to three years imprisonment. The offence was communicated with the sentence, conviction, and pardon recommended by the judge who tried him and the attorney who prosecuted him.

Acting Rear Admiral H. H. Bell, commanding the United States Asiatic Squadron, transmits to the Navy Department, a copy of his general order No. 15, issued in conformity with instructions from the Secretary of the Navy, to act in concert with the British Admiral, and representations of other powers on that station, in the suppression of piracy on the Chinese Coast. He directs all commanding officers of vessels under his command to give vigilant and earnest attent on to the suppression of piracies on the coast of China, and pursue, capture and destroy all such piratical vessels as may be found, with the consent of the Chinese authorities, and to turn over such captured property and persons to the authorities of the nearest Consular port, furnishing such proof against the captured parties as may lead to their convic ion, and further directing them to put themselves in communication with the senior representatives of Great Britain, or any other power present, and the United States Consul upon their stations, and the Chinese authorities, civil or naval. Commanders of vessels are authorized to employ Chinese pilots who are competent to point out piratical junks or vessels.

At the former session of Congress a law was passed authorizing the removal of numerous Indian tribes from the State of Kansas, but definite action has heretofore taken place under this act, but the Shawnees hearing of what had been done, sent a delegation, who say they do not want to make a treaty at present. The delegation will return to Kansas and inform the various tribes that commissioners are coming to treat with them. There is an interpreter with the commissioner Boggs to-day, but did not come to any conclusion.

This Commission has been appointed and will proceed at once to discharge their duties. The object is to make a treaty with all the tribes, a list of which accompanies the instructions, and get them to cede a portion of their land, as the constant conflict with the whites, to a new home better adapted to their condition and where they would be much happier. The country they will be asked to cede is south of Chickasaw and south of the Cherokees. It was formerly called the leased lands, but by a recent treaty the absolute title was acquired by the United States. If a cession of sufficient extent will be granted. The Commission are instructed to visit each tribe to consult and ascertain their disposition on the subject, in order that the matter may be finally settled during the present session of Congress.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 11.—In December, 1864, a rebel raiding party, commanded by Capt. Wm. Jenkins, of Marietta, Georgia, entered the town of Athens and killed a citizen named M'Gaughey. The Plymouth Church Fair.

Under the most favorable auspices has the Plymouth Church Fair and Festival been opened at City Hall. Yesterday afternoon and last night it was visited by large throngs of our most respectable citizens. The hall is beautifully decorated, and every thing conducive to the pleasure and enjoyment of visitors, has been attended to in the most liberal manner. The tables, of which there may be found every article of use, beauty, and adornment, are arranged upon either side of the hall, and from these ladies, where may be bought articles, from whom it is a pleasure to purchase. The refreshment tables are supplied with delicacies to tempt the palate, and most delightful meals are served by the fair ones at all hours. Near the entrance to the hall will be found the elegant set of harness to be awarded, to the company which receives the largest number of votes from the visitors in attendance. The rivalry has already commenced among the "boys" interested in the commissioner Boggs to-day, but did not come to any conclusion.

This Commission has been appointed and will proceed at once to discharge their duties. The object is to make a treaty with all the tribes, a list of which accompanies the instructions, and get them to cede a portion of their land, as the constant conflict with the whites, to a new home better adapted to their condition and where they would be much happier. The country they will be asked to cede is south of Chickasaw and south of the Cherokees. It was formerly called the leased lands, but by a recent treaty the absolute title was acquired by the United States. If a cession of sufficient extent will be granted. The Commission are instructed to visit each tribe to consult and ascertain their disposition on the subject, in order that the matter may be finally settled during the present session of Congress.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE BATTLE OF NASHVILLE.

The Tennessee Debt.

NASHVILLE, Dec. 11.—In December, 1864, a rebel raiding party, commanded by Capt. Wm. Jenkins, of Marietta, Georgia, entered the town of Athens and killed a citizen named M'Gaughey. On Sunday last, at the Sweet Bridge depot, about twenty miles from Athens, Captain Jenkins was attacked by two of the sons of M'Gaughey and another man. Jenkins was mortally wounded, but succeeded in inflicting wounds with his revolver on assailants of which they have since died. Jenkins is also dead.

Governor Brownlow laid before the Legislature to-day a communication, announcing that Maj. Gen. Thomas and staff would visit Nashville to participate in the celebration of the battle of Nashville. The medal voted Gen. Thomas by the Legislature will be presented to him on the occasion.

A resolution has been adopted by the Legislature authorizing the Comptroller to borrow $500,000 to aid in paying the interest on State bonds due the 1st of January next.

No new developments have been made touching the school fund bonds deposited with the Tennessee national bank, at Memphis, by the Comptroller. It is believed that the bonds are gone past recovery.

The Legislature has appointed a committee to investigate the matter, and I also adopted a resolution authorizing the Governor to take active measures to recover the bonds.

BALTIMORE, December 11.—The Veterans of the War of 1812 are making efforts to procure from Congress the passage of such a law as will secure them from want. It is believed the aggregate amount to be paid annually will not exceed three million dollars.

New Railroad in Kansas—Installment Paid.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., December 11.—The City Council to-day ordered the issue of sixty thousand dollars as the first installment of one hundred thousand dollars subscribed by the city to the Kansas City and Fort Scott Railroad. The contractor will begin work in ten days, and will finish forty-five miles of the road by September next. The Cameron road, to connect this city with the Hannibal and St. Joseph Railroad, will be completed in May next.

The Fenian Trials—Arguments by Counsel.

SWEETSBURG, December 11.—Mr. Devlin spoke upwards of two hours in support of his plea to the jurisdiction of the court. The Judge decided that the court had power. The court then adjourned till to-morrow.

Negro Suffrage in the District of Columbia.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—There seems to be no doubt of the early passing of the Negro Suffrage bill for this District. The only questions that could arise upon the passage of this bill were, first, as to its expediency, and, second, as to the right of Congress to pass such a law. The House had already determined it was not expedient to declare general pardons and amnesty by repealing the amnesty act on the first day of the present session, and he had no doubt of the right and power of Congress to repeal those portions of the act of 1790, which, if not repealed, would be equivalent to such a declaration.

After considerable debate, and without taking the question up, the House adjourned.

A Phillipic Affair.

Margaret Phillips came to the office of Alderman Lynch yesterday, and instituted proceedings against her husband, Peter Phillips, for assault and battery and desertion. It appears that the parties find the hymenial noose rather galling, and occasionally indulge in heated debates, the inauguration of which is ascribed by Margaret to the irritable and ungovernable temper of her legal lord, the battle of Nashville. The metal voted Gen. Thomas by the Legislature will be presented to him on the occasion.

A GENERAL RAILROAD LAW.

For some years past an increasing degree of solicitude has been felt, by large sections of the population of Pennsylvania, for the enactment of a General Free Railroad Law. Various causes have conspired so far to impede and frustrate the desired end; as the indifference of members of the Legislatures for counties in which facilities of intercommunication had been perfected or nearly so; the opposition of capitalists who had largely invested in existing railroads, on faith in special acts of legislation securing to them special privileges; and the want of circumspection evinced in the bills brought forward to grant the right of making railroads to all who were disposed to embark their money and diligence therein.

After the gubernatorial nominations were made last summer, General GEARY and Mr. CLYMER were respectively interrogated as to their views and purposes touching this matter, and each responded, in substance, that he was in favor of freedom in railroad building. We know that General GEARY answered strictly in conformity with his convictions, and that so far as he has any rightful influence over legislation it will be fairly exerted to make good his commitment. Nor are we disposed to question that Mr. CLYMER, if he had been elected, would have pursued the same course.

There has latterly been so obvious a popular demand for a General Law regulating the construction of railroads, that it can be no longer delayed. Indeed, we shall not be venturing beyond the bounds of probability in declaring that railroad corporations, which have heretofore looked upon Free Railroading as perilous to their investments, have modified their conclusions so far as to concede that monopoly cannot be maintained, and that unrestricted competition must be accepted.

So far as we have been able to ascertain —and we have given some attention to the matter—the popular opinion is well represented in the Legislature. A bill which shall be openly against speculators holding important lines on the strength of surveys and stake-driving: that shall protect citizens living along projected lines from imposition and loss under pretense of public enterprise; and that shall nevertheless afford all who really desire to develop a particular district by combining their means to that end, a fair and unhindered opportunity, will doubtless meet with favor and be readily passed into a law. Other States have had valuable experience in this behalf; have had their courts crowded with victims seeking relief from liabilities incurred under faulty enactments; and have profited by suffering. It is easy thus to obtain wisdom without cost. The legislation of other Commonwealths on this subject should be carefully examined by one or more competent and experienced minds, and a bill prepared in the light of the investigation for introduction to the General Assembly at the approaching session. Have any of the friends of such a law taken this precaution? If not, we remind them they have no time to waste.

A HARD ALTERNATIVE.

The sudden somersault of the Chicago Times from the extreme of copperheadism to advocacy of negro suffrage excited no little surprise and made a considerable flutter in the obscene rookery to which it belongs. Many and various were the conjectures as to what it meant. Had the utter annihilation of the so-called democracy in Illinois caused the dispairing editor to leap from the sinking ship? So thought many; but we think there was more method in its madness than most people, both democrats and republicans, gave it credit for.

It will be remembered that the pending amendment of the national constitution—which all sagacious men know will prevail sooner or later, unless a satisfactory substitute can be found for it—renders all men who took an active part in the late rebellion ineligible to office. Now, as it would be about as possible for a man to live and act with his head cut off as for the democratic party to rule the country, as of yore, with the leaders of the rebellion cut off, the Times, and several others of the more knowing of the journals of that party, have hoisted the flag of universal suffrage—which of course carries with it negro suffrage—as a substitute for that fatal section of the amendment, a propitiatory offering to the ultra radicals—an offer of universal suffrage for universal amnesty.

A few days ago a Mr. BROOKS, a member of the Alabama Legislature, an active secessionist, and a man who, before the war, held large property in slaves, proposed an amendment to the State constitution, conferring the right of suffrage upon every person, irrespective of color, who can fill the following conditions:

"Every male person of the age of twenty-one years and upward, who shall be a citizen of the United States, and shall have resided in this State one year next preceding the election, and six months thereof in the county in which he offers to vote, and shall be able to read the Constitution of this State and of the United States, and to write a legible hand, and shall have a homestead worth $200, or other property of the value of $200, shall be deemed a qualified elector."

Soldiers of the United States and persons who shall have been convicted of high crimes or misdemeanors to be excepted. The proposition caused a profound sensation, and although it was laid on the table by a vote of 69 to 18, it is by no means certain that it will not be taken up again when these rebels shall find that nothing else will save them. It is a significant fact that the proposition was not only offered by a secessionist, who boasted when he did so that he had done all in his power to sustain the cause of the Confederacy, but that it received all the support it obtained from the same side of the house. We now know what this Democratic proposition for universal suffrage means. The rebel leaders are trying to save themselves, while the poor Copperheads of the North are trying to save their party from the loss of their old slaveholding fathers, who, almost to a man, went into the rebellion.

IT IS HINTED that Spain is upon the verge of a bloody revolution. Queen Isabella, the last reigning Bourbon, is determined to meet the brewing trouble among her subjects with war, instead of endeavoring to inaugurate popular reforms which would restore good feeling upon all sides.

BEN. WADE, of Ohio, is in favor of universal suffrage without any distinction of race, color or sex.

ADMISSION OF COLORADO.

A vigorous effort will be made during the present session of Congress to have Colorado admitted to the Union. It is alleged that the only opposition to the measure comes from the Territorial Governor and those officially associated with him. The measure is likely to meet with favor in Congress; but will probably be vetoed by the President. But as the Republicans can put it through by a two-thirds vote, the opposition of the President will be of no consequence. Senator WADE appears to have taken the matter in hand.

The present population is estimated to be from 50,000 to 60,000, and is rapidly increasing by immigration. The tax valuation of property, exclusive of the mines, is $10,610,800, an increase over last year of nearly two millions. The two Pacific railways which are rapidly approaching that Territory—one by the valley of the Kansas and the other by that of the Platte—will, it is expected, cause a great and rapid increase of population. It is claimed by those who are urging the measure, that the completion of these roads to Colorado, which will certainly be accomplished at an early day, together with the vast extent of her resources in agriculture, grazing, gold, silver, lead, coal and iron mines, and in salt and petroleum, insure a rapid development and increase in population in the immediate future, and that she is bound to be one of the greatest, richest and most populous States in the Union.

DEATH OF REV. E. D. MCMASTER, D. D. —This eminent and well known divine, who was recently called to the head of the Old School Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Chicago, died on Monday afternoon of pneumonia. Dr. McMaster was a man of profound learning and of clear and strong intellect, a zealous and fervent Christian, and one who enjoyed the veneration, confidence and love of his brethren to a very high degree. He was probably about sixty years of age. Of his early history we are unable to speak at present; but a fuller and more satisfactory notice will be given to-morrow.

REDUCTION OF THE CURRENCY.

The view taken in the following article, though not the one to which we incline, is from an able thinker, and merits full consideration:

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Before the war the sum total of the circulating medium of the United States was from two hundred to two hundred and fifty millions, as estimated by some. Others fix it at one hundred millions higher. Let us assume it at the larger figure.

The question first in order is, was it large enough? We say no; first, because it compelled business men, in their transactions, to resort, to a very unwholesome extent, to the credit system. Debts to an enormous aggregate amount existed, not as an exceptional condition of things, but as the rule. The cotton and tobacco of the South, and the grain and meat of the west were, to a large extent, hypothecated before they were in the market, or even gathered from the fields. This injurious commercial policy—hurtful and hazardous to all the parties concerned—was so common that it became to be regarded as the normal condition of things. But that this universal credit system prevailed only because there was not enough of money in the country to float its business is proved by the fact that now, when the volume of the currency has been greatly enlarged, it no longer prevails as the rule, but has become the exception. The cash system is now the rule in commercial transactions. The consequence is that the East and the West are no longer alternately drained; that violent fluctuations in values, whether of securities or merchandise, no longer occasion panics and financial disaster.

If a ship is anchored in deep water, the tide may rise and fall without endangering it, because, no matter how low the ebb, there is still water enough to float it safely. But let it be floated upon a sheal at high tide, and no sooner does the tide change than the vessel is stranded—perhaps broken up. It is just so with everything that rests upon the ever-varying volume of a nation's currency. If it is abundant, the alternate floods and ebbs are not dangerous; but if deficient, more or less strains and wrecks result from every fluctuation.

Everybody predicted that great financial and commercial disasters would come upon us as soon as the abnormal strength and excitement consequent upon our great war should subside. But it has not come yet. And why? Simply because the volume of currency which the war created, and which the end of the war did not seriously diminish, has floated the country safely amid all the violent fluctuations of the past two years. But for that, the whole country would have been utterly prostrate, and the national credit could not have been maintained.

We have a national debt of about twenty-seven hundred millions of dollars to carry; and upon the soundness of that vast mass of national securities hangs the solvency of our entire circulating medium, together with the whole system of values of both fixed and moveable property. If we curtail the volume of that active circulating medium we, to that extent, diminish the streams of revenue whereby the entire fabric upon which the prosperity of the people and the solvency of the nation is maintained.

The idea of returning to specie payments at an early day, say, in two years, is utopian. We have have not coin enough upon which to base a financial system adequate to the necessities of this great and progressive nation, or to the payment of revenues adequate to its enormously increased wants. We must be content with things as they are for a while yet. We must supply the place of coin with the next best thing—legal tender notes. We have enough of these, but not too many.

How, then, it may be asked, is this abnormal condition of things to be terminated? Simply by checking the efflux of gold by lessening importations. This will lessen the demand for gold, and cause it to accumulate. By degrees the values of the metalic and the paper bases of the National currency will approximate until they become equal, or very nearly so; and then, and not before, can specie payments be resumed. The two will flow together as quietly, and with as little violence and commotion, as the water in a full lock unites and mingles with that of the upper level of a canal, the moment the gate which separated them is thown open. We must shut the wickets, and then wait patiently until the lock fills. Then, and no sooner, can we safely open the gate.

We have a currency now, such as it is, of just about sufficient volume. It may be said to be lighter, by forty per cent., than the usual standard of the world. Now the question is, what will bring it up to the proper weight? There is but one way, and that is to keep the precious metals in the country; and this can only be done by laying more onerous duties upon imports, and thus stimulate and enlarge our home industries. In no other way can we get back to a currency based upon coin, and convertible into coin, and at the same time avoid the universal crash which must assuredly follow any serious curtailment of the currency.

We fervently hope that Congress will not permit the Secretary of the Treasury to retire, as he proposes, a large amount of the legal tender notes. That would be to knock the foundation from under our entire monetary structure. We do not say that the foundation is as good as a metalic one, but as it is the best we have, and as it is the only one we can have for some years to come, we say, let it alone. The only policy that can carry us safely back to a normal condition is that which will cause an accumulation of the precious metals.

There is no country on earth in which the precious metals can be made to accumulate so rapidly as in this. We have them in exhaustless abundance in our mines. The immigrants from Europe bring large quantities; and if manufacturing industry could only receive a little more protection, and that policy be firmly established, millions upon millions of capital would flow in from Europe to be invested in manufactures, and with that capital would come hundreds of thousands of skilled workmen. Then our farmers would not need to send their surplus products to far distant and precarious markets, with a loss of sixty per cent. on their value in transportation and commissions, but would have the consumers beside them, to whom they could sell direct. It is these middlemen, these traders, these speculators, who are keeping up this clamor for free trade and a diminished currency. C.

The Democracy and Andrew Johnson.

Mr. LE BLOND, a Democratic Representative of Ohio, took occasion, the other day, in his place in Congress, to speak of the "humble individual" as follows:

"We have no interest in the Executive on this side of the house—not the least. [Renewed laughter. He is not the man of our choice; we did not put him there. [Clapping of hands.] We do not claim any benefits under him, and certainly we did not receive any in the late campaign. [Renewed laughter.] We never took him up, and therefore have no right to drop him; there was no necessity of our dropping that which we had never taken up. We never took him up, and he never took us up. It is true, whenever he ran into our line of policy we were bound to sustain him, but we never pretended to shoulder that which this Radical party has put into power. To do so would be to destroy any party in the world. [Roars of laughter.]"

PROPOSED REDUCTION OF THE DUTY ON WOOL.—It is ascertained that a prominent feature of Well's proposed tariff bill is a specious show of relieving manufacturers by reducing duties on raw material. The duty on wool competing with American fleece is to be placed at six cents instead of ten cents, and ten per cent ad valorem, as provided in the House bill of last session, and this is the face of a production of wool in Buenos Ayres alone for this year of 100,000,000 pounds more than our own production, and received at one-fifth the cost.

AN AUTUMN SUGGESTION.—Now, as heavy fogs arise and searching winds commence to blow; now, as the human body, exhausted like inanimate nature by the heats of summer, begins to wilt and droop; now, ere the inclement winter makes its trying onset, is the time for a preparatory course of the best acclimating medicine in existence,

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Fever and Ague is rampant in all parts of the country. Quinine, the physicians admit, will not quell the fever and ague of the district which prevades the entire West. It is well that it is so, for that remedy is so called is dreadful in its malady. But if quinine is inefficient in intermittent fevers, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is irresistible. It would be safe to make a contract, under heavy penalties, that any given "Fever-and-Ague District" should be exempted from the disease for any particular time, provided every inhabitant would take the BITTERS according to directions, during the term of the contract. There has never been an instance in medicine which this sterling invigorant and anti-febrific medicine has failed to satisfy the complaint, when taken duly as a protection against malaria. Hundreds of physicians have abandoned all the official specifics and now prescribe this harmless vegetable tonic, and nothing else, as a preventive and cure for all the forms of chills and fever. For it is the thing most needful in these cases as well as in dyspepsia and nervous affections, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are the safest, surest, and most wholesome strengthening preparation that human skill has yet concocted.

THE GREAT

CHICKERING PIANOS,

Prices Same as at the Factory.

The Unapproachable

EMERSON PIANOS,

The Emerson Piano supplies a long and severely felt want—that is, a good, well-made, fine toned, and lasting Instrument at moderate price. They are made of the most thoroughly seasoned wood, all of the parts of which are by a scientific manufacturer; have overstrung bass, full iron frames, iron Bank, and all modern improvements. The furniture is elegant in design, finished in best rosewood, finely varnished and polished. The great success we have had with the Emerson Pianos is due to their great merits. The public having given them a trial, has found they are worthy of all praise, and are buying as fast as we can get them from the factory.

WE WARRANT THEM FOR FIVE YEARS.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE)

Almost a Homocide—An Unwonted Burglar.

Yesterday morning, between the hours of three and four o'clock, Mrs. J. H. Miller, residing on Watson street, in the Eighth ward, was awakened by some noise in the kitchen of her dwelling, sounding as if some person was walking over or against the large dining table that occupied a position near the rear window, that looked out against an embankment some twenty feet in height. Listening for a few moments, she could hear more distinctly than before, the creaking of the door leading up the stairway to the upper floor, where her own and her two son's chambers were located. Arousing her husband, she related to him in a hurried manner, what she had heard. As soon as he was thoroughly awake, he leaped lightly from the bed and by the mantlepiece a revolver his son had brought home from the army he crept on tiptoe to the head of the stairs and awaited the coming of the intruder. Softly the stealthy tread crept from one step to another, even and anon pausing as if fearful of discovery or irresolute whether to proceed farther or go back. At length the burglar reached the landing and nothing but the door separated him and Mr. Miller. The door knob turned and the hinges creaked as if an effort was being made to force it upward sufficiently to allow the latch to escape its fastenings. Unable longer to control her terror, Mrs. Miller, at this juncture, expressed the determination to cry for help, but her husband would not allow her, as he was determined to have a combat with the ruffian who had thus violated the privacy of the domicil. Again the door creaked and the latch raised, notwithstanding that the cavey was turned down upon it, almost out of the catch. Expecting the next moment to be at grips with the housebreaker, Mr. Miller cocked his weapon and prepared to receive his untimely visitor. The click of the trigger, however, must have been heard by him on the other side, and the next instant a voice that sounded unmistakably like that of his son, a youth of seventeen, was heard exclaiming, "Is that you father?" The latch was thrown up, the door thrown open, the revolver cast aside, and the next moment the arms of the mother were thrown around her boy, as if to shield him from the imminent danger just passed.

After reprimanding the youth for effecting an entrance into the parental domicil in such an unusual and dangerous manner, the father demanded to know where his boy had been until such a late hour, when he was supposed by his parent to be safely lodged in bed. An explanation was forthcoming immediately. The youth had been attending a ball in the city, and fearful that the old folks should know of his absence until such a late hour, he sought to return his chamber without awakening any one, and for that purpose went to the rear and climbed through the window. He has every reason to thank God that the affair ended thus happily.

Court of Common Pleas.

Judges Sterrett and Mellon occupied the bench of the Court of Common Pleas yesterday.

The jury in the case of the owners of the steamboat Advance No. 2, vs. James McCabe, et. al., found for the defendant.

The next case taken up was that of David McKee vs. James F. Tanner. In August, 1864, the Ohio Valley Oil Company was organized, with a capital of $30,000, McKee and others owning the land. Tanner subscribed for two thousand shares at one dollar each, paying one thousand dollars cash, and entering into a written agreement to pay the remaining thousand dollars when the price of the stock reached two dollars and a half, and that several times the land was sold at that figure. The present value of the stock is two cents and a half per share. Schoyer for plaintiff; D. W. Bell for defendant. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,000.

The case of James Salisbury vs. F. McKee & Brother, was taken up. This was an action in trover to recover the amount of a promissory note ($5,42) with interest and damages to the amount of five hundred dollar; R. B. Carnahan for plaintiff, and J. H. Miller for defendant. Verdict for defendant.

The next case taken up was that of Ambrose Ryan vs. John Montgomery. This was a case of alleged fraud and deception. Some time ago the plaintiff obtained from the defendant a mare in exchange for a pair of mules and forty-five dollars in money. The mare proved to be sick, and in about ten days after the trade she died. It is alleged that Montgomery knew of the worthlessness of the animal before he disposed of her. The case is still on trial.

Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the Ladies' Committee of the Boys in Blue, will be held in the Committee room, City Hall, on Monday, December 17th, at two o'clock p. m. The object of the meeting is to take preliminary steps towards raising a fund for the benefit of the soldier's orphans. It is proposed by the Committee to give a series of tableaux at Masonic Hall between Christmas and New Years, and some time in February or March next, to hold a grand Fair and Festival at City Hall. It is thought that by the sale of articles contributed, and the receipts for admission the handsome fund can be raised, which is very much needed. This object should commend itself to the community in general.

The ladies who participated in the decoration of City Hall for the late Soldiers and Sailors' Convention, will unanimously cooperate in the proposed undertaking; and it is hoped that all the patriotic ladies of Pittsburgh and vicinity will unite in the matter, and thus make these undertakings a complete success.

The Resident Military Committee, we are informed, will also hold a meeting at their room, City Hall, on the same afternoon, at three o'clock. This committee will effectually cooperate with the Ladies' Committee in getting up and perfecting both the Tableaux and the Fair and Festival.

Criminal Court.

Court opened at the usual hour, yesterday morning, Judge Stowe occupying the bench.

The case of George E. Shaw, indicted for aggravated assault and battery on oath of his wife, Mary Ann Shaw. The assault and battery is alleged to have been committed on the night of the 25th of June. The prosecuting witness testified that the defendant had beaten her, blacking her eye, kicking her, knocking her into a ditch, etc. A large number of witnesses were examined on the part of the defense, for the purpose of showing that the prosecutrix was intoxicated on the night of the assault, and had been for two days previous. That the bruises were results of falls while she was intoxicated, or while she was being held to prevent doing damage to the goods in the store, and from throwing things at the defendant. The jury returned a verdict of guilty of assault and battery.

J. Mulherron plead guilty on two charges of illegal liquor selling. In the first case he was ordered to pay a fine of $75, and in the second case $100.

P. McGee also plead guilty to selling liquor without a license, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50.

George W. Rutter, Shepley Wallace and W Orriss were next placed on trial on a charge of riot. The alleged riot occurred in September last, at the Tarentum camp meeting. The case is still on trial.

Died of His Injuries.

Frederick Hall, the brakeman who was burned at the railroad accident near Sugar Grove, on Thursday, died the next day after twenty-four hours of intense suffering. At the time the cars ran off the track he was at the brakes on a tank car, and he clung to his post of duty like a hero, doing his utmost to stay the momentum of the cars as soon as could be. The tank of the car he was on exploded, and threw him a distance of a hundred feet. As soon as he struck the ground, all enveloped with burning oil as he was, he sprang up and ran with all his might to a neighboring house, where a woman who was engaged in washing threw water over him and extinguished the flames. He was burned so as to be unrecognizable—his hair being singed and his skin scorched. He kept up good spirits while he lived. His name deserves to go upon the rolls of history as that of a hero, for it was the devotion to duty which made him cling to his post, that caused his fatal injury.

The Steubenville Robbery.

The Steubenville Herald gives the following particulars of the Kauffman robbery, which we announced yesterday morning:

"The entrance was made through the door in the rear of the building, which is very thin. A part of one of the panels was forced in, the key was reached, the door unlocked, the prop reaching from the lock to the floor removed, when the thieves made an examination. Some of the shelves were cleared of ready-made clothing, amounting to some fifteen hundred dollars' worth. The thieves doubtless stole all they were able to carry off. Messrs. Kauffman & Kaufman offer a reward of three hundred dollars for the arrest of the thief or thieves and the recovery of the goods. The goods, like those of Mr. Mitchell, a year or so ago, are perhaps not far removed from where they were taken. Merchants should see that their houses are better secured—such neglect rather invites rascals to "break in and steal."

The Galaxy.—We have received from Pittock, opposite the Postoffice, the "Galaxy" for December 15th. This number completes the second volume. At the commencement of the third volume the magazine is to be enlarged sixteen pages, and a story entitled "Waiting for the Verdict" will also be commenced. The present number contains Archie Lovell, The Environs of Berlin, Napoleon the Third, Seen Once, The Currency of the United States, An Old Story, Christmas, The Captain's Story, From Pig to Pork, The Clavernngs, The Woman Question, Macaronics, Nebulæ.

Disappeared.—A man named Finan McDonald left the Lagtona House, Venango city, to visit some friends at the coal banks, on Sunday evening last. He has not been heard of since. McDonald had on Monday evening, black dress coat, and a Canadian gray overcoat, and is five feet eight inches high, and sandy complexion. His friends think he has been foully dealt with.

Mercantile Library Association—Election of Nominating Committee.—At a meeting of the Association on Monday evening, the 10th inst., the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to nominate suitable officers for the ensuing year: Thos. Baxewell, Jr., Irwin B. Laughlin, B. F. Jennings, L. V. McCandless, John Stewart, R. A. George, Geo. McConnell.

Hard on the Boys.—Boys can't skate on the sidewalks in Titusville. The ice will allow it but the Councils won't.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

Maximillian Will Not Leave the Country.

GEN. SEDGWICK UNDER ARREST.

GEN. SHERIDAN ORDERS THE RELEASE OF ORTEGA.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—A special telegram from Vera Cruz, dated December 4th, via Mobile 10th, contains no news of importance.

The steamer Susquehanna arrived on Friday last. On Monday night, the 3d inst., the vessel sailed for Brazos, where it arrived on Friday last.

General Sherman and Minister Campbell were to leave Monterey for Matamoras.

A proclamation was issued declaring that Maximilian would not leave the country, but would resume the reins of government.

The Emperor's baggage is being shipped for Austria, and the French troops are concentrating, preparatory to leaving.

Gen. Sheridan arrived at Brownsville on the 6th, and placed Gen. Sedgwick under arrest. He also ordered the release of Ortega.

Escobedo ordered Canales to Monterey to take command of the force operating against San Luis, and ordered Cortinas to report at Camargo under arrest for depredations committed.

Proclamation of Governor Fletcher.

ST. LOUIS, December 11.—Gov. Fletcher has issued a proclamation stating that a portion of the State of Missouri is infested with murderers and robbers, who defy civil authority, and have the sympathy and aid of such numbers of the people of the localities in which they have their haunts, and have so intimidated or obtained the sympathy of the local authorities that peaceable, law-abiding citizens are powerless in either person or property. He therefore calls for twenty-four companies of cavalry and ten companies of infantry to be organized in the regular way, to preserve the peace, protect the citizens and execute the legal processes on all violators of the law, and bring them to trial.

Adjutant General Simpson issued a general order for the organization and proper equipment of this force.

The sale of the Iron Mountain railroad and the Cairo and Fulton railroad to McKay & Co., has been approved by the Governor.

From South America.

NEW YORK, December 11.—Late Panama correspondence states that the aspect of political affairs in Columbia is lugubrious. The blacks and lower class of natives favor the Liberal party's propositions, and all is quiet, although the flames were soon stopped, their violence among the petroleum was so great that the dense volume of smoke suffocated nine persons.

Severe Storm at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, Dec. 11.—A severe storm is prevailing here. Business is suspended, and the State Line Railroad to Erie is partially blocked. Beyond this place there is no trouble, and trains will be soon running regularly.

The Great Ocean Yacht Race.

NEW YORK, December 11.—The yachts for the ocean race started from Sandy Hook to-day.

CAUTION.—The above Remedies have now been before the public many years, and their great success in the alleviation of human misery has excited the cupidity of several parties, who use the name "Specific Pills," copy the labels, circulars and advertisements, sometimes word for word, and put up worthless compounds that disappoint the just expectations of the purchaser.
If you cannot purchase Bell's Specific Remedies of your Druggist, take no other, but send the money direct to

TO LADIES.—If you require a reliable remedy to restore you, and remove irregularities of obstruction, WHY NOT USE THE BEST. Every lady knows the slightest irregularity of nature is likely to bring on Headache, Giddiness, Pain, Low Spirits, Fainting, Hysterics, &c.; then the bloom of health fades, the appetite fails, and other symptoms more distressing commence, as Weakness, Spinal Complaint, the Whites, Prolapsus, &c., &c. A NEVER-FAILING REMEDY will be found in DR. HARVEY'S FEMALE PILLS. The experience of 30 years has proved they have no equal for removing obstructions and irregularities, no matter from what cause they arise. They are safe and sure in every case. Upwards of 50,000 boxes are sold annually, and no complaints of their efficacy is ever heard, for they accomplish what they are represented to do. Sold in boxes containing sixty pills. DR. HARVEY'S GOLDEN PILLS is a remedy four degrees stronger than the above, and intended for special cases of long standing. Price five dollars per box.
If you cannot purchase the Pills at your Druggist, they will be sent by mail paid, securely from observation, on receipt of the money, by Dr. JAMES BRYAN, Consulting Physician, No. 819 Broadway, New York.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, December 11, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 137¾–advance ⅜. Uncle's, 112¾–decline ⅜. 5-20's old, 107½–decline ¼. Do, '65, 106⅞–decline ⅛. 5-20s, new, 106⅝–decline ⅛. 7-30s, first series, 105¼–decline ⅛. Do, 2d and 3d, 105¼–decline ⅛. Michigan Southern R. R., 80¾–advance ⅞. Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 87¾–advance 2½. Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 105¾–advance ¾. Erie, 72¾–advance 1. Western Union Telegraph Co., 46¾–advance ¾. Chicago & Northwestern, 58¾–advance ⅞. Chicago & Rock Island, 104¼–advance 1¼. Reading 110¼–advance ½.

The above quotations, from the New York board, show a firmer state of the market on all securities, save government bonds. Gold closed Monday evening at 137¾, opens to-day at 137¾. Governments are unsettled and declining. We find it difficult to account for this state of things—a rise of nearly one per cent in the English market, increased activity, and an advance of nearly three per cent in some instances on Railways, a firmer gold and foreign exchange market, yet governments lower. It is probable, but one of the freaks of trade. Railways are more easily moved upon a substantially weak market than governments; and to them what speculative feeling there is left turns.

Correspondents differ greatly in regard to the condition of the market. While it is agreed by the large majority of operators, including all of the more prudent, that a universal decline in prices is inevitable sooner or later, there is a variety of opinion as to whether the decline can be gradually or safely accomplished. We believe that it can be through a judicious curtailment of the currency, and a steady tariff upon imports. The great trouble will be to maintain anything like steadiness or uniformity in the lowering of rates upon bonds, stocks, products and labor. From present appearances, the last named will hold out the longest against the downward movement, but while provisions are cheaper, it is suicidal for laborers and mechanics to hope to return, or an advance upon the present rates of wages. Universal agreement that lower prices is the order of the day, a constant shaping of business toward that end, a readiness on all sides to accept the change, a mutual helpfulness, and the thing is accomplished. We will count values by smaller sums, but we shall be none the poorer therefor. The gold dollar will then buy its fair rate of products as compared with the present currency values, and trade will be more forward in the line of steady and assured prosperity.

Our local stock market is without special interest. Governments vary with the varying quotations from New York. Bank stocks are rather more freely offered, but have been thus far quite readily taken up at previous quotations. We can report no late sales of either Bridge, Gas or Railway shares. All of these are closely held for permanent investments. The cheaper class of Railroad shares have not been on the market this week, quotations are therefore uncertain. 46 was bid to-day for Grain Elevator stock; last sales 45½. Columbia oil is heavy at 15 bid, 15¼ asked. Triumph looking up again. It is held at 115. Of Marine, we report no sales, and but little offering.

—The National Intelligencer gives the following estimate of the production of gold during the year 1866:

Of the value of the bullion in lumps, bars, ingots or otherwise, assessed during the fiscal year 1866, is given by the Internal Revenue returns at $61,200,341. Of this amount $60,052,803 was assessed in the Pacific and Rocky Mountain States and Territories, and the remainder chiefly in the Atlantic seaboard cities. It is estimated that in the gold-producing regions of the country at least 25 per cent of the production escaped assessment, and that of the gold received in the Atlantic seaboard cities one half is of domestic production. In view of these facts, and taking the Internal Revenue returns as a basis of estimate, the production of gold in the fiscal year 1866 is calculated at $93,219,374. The production of gold in 1865 is estimated at $75,514,358, an increase in 1866 of $19,675,015."

Seven-and-Thirties and Five-Twenties are much out of favor. According to a decision of the Treasury Department, innocent holders of securities of this description who have paid full value for them, are liable to be deprived of their property quite unceremoniously. Their payment may be stopped at headquarters by the original owners, from whom they have been lost or stolen. They are to be viewed precisely in the same light as checks payable to orders drawn on banks. Any payment of these endorsed securities to the wrong party would be the loss of the United States Treasury and not of the true payee.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, December 11, 1866.

CATTLE.

The supply of cattle on sale was again limited this week, not exceeding seven hundred head, but the demand, also, was exceedingly light, ane the market was a dull one, a considerable number being left unsold. Compared with last week, however, prices have undergone no change, the best fat retailing cattle selling at 7 to 7¼, a few extra bringing ¼ or perhaps ½ more. Medium cattle sold at from 6 to 6½, while inferior and common, as always is the case, moved very slowly, and then only at very low figures. The butchers continue to buy sparingly, which is owing to the fact that the markets are full of pork and poultry in the hands of farmers, who, when forced to do it, will undersell before they will take their meat home with them.

SHEEP.

There was a very fair business done in Hogs and as the demand was better than last week, prices, if anything, are a shade higher, and the quality of the offerings was better as a general thing. We can report the following operations: Emerick & Co. sold 42 head at 6 to 7; Kerwin & Martin, 89 head at 6 to 7—72 head left over. Dannells & Co. sold 42 head to Gluss & Lafferty, averaging 200 lbs, at 6. Jas. Morgan sold Kerwin & Martin 80 head, averaging 265, at 6¾. McPherson sold Emerick & Co. 117 head, averaging 255, at 5.30. Carpenter to same buyer 86 head, averaging 275, at 6.

SHEEP.

There was a rather better supply of Sheep on sale this week, and with a fair demand the market ruled steady at about last week's quotations—prime fat mutton Sheep, such as our best butchers are in the habit of buying, selling at 6 to 6½. Kerwin & Martin retailed 20 head at 5 to 5¾—29 head left over. Thompson sold 58 head, averaging 95 lbs, to Ewart, at 4½; retailed 100 head at 4 to 6½. Fowler sold 81 head, averaging 110 lbs to Moore, at 5. Fowler & Emill sold 50 head, averaging 90 lbs, to Hines at 4½.

UNASSORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Carr & McAllister retailed 78 head at 4¼ to 7. Verner 34 at 5.50 to 6.90; Hartman 14 at 5½ to 6¾; Shamberg 22 head at 6 to 6¾; Herrick & Doud, 44; L. Rothchilds, 24; Hunter, 11; Bedell, 13 head.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, December 11, 1866.

CRUDE—There was not a single operation in Crude to-day, with the exception of 55 bbls "Smith's Ferry" at 8½ free on board cars.

The present "cold snap," as mentioned in our last report, has stiffened up the crude men somewhat, who, in anticipation of navigation being suspended and the source of supply being cut off, expect a firmer market and better prices. Thus far, however, the only basis for an advance is the freezing up of the river, as the Eastern and European markets have not improved, nor is the prospect for such an event very encouraging. We quote at 8@8¼ in bulk, with but few if any buyers above 8 to 8¼, the outside figure being offered for desirable gravities. Kanawha oil is held at 10 cts, and while there are sellers at that figure, thus far there are no buyers.

REFINED—There was some little inquiry for bonded oil to-day, but buyers and sellers are apart, and consequently we have not a single operation to report. There are offers at 29, for December delivery in Philadelphia, and 30 for January, while for March and April it might possibly be obtained, but at present, our refiners refuse to sell at these quotations—in fact, many of them feel insulted when these offers are made by brokers. Free oil is dull but without quotable change We can report a sale of 100 bbls "Lucifer" brand, at 46.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals were reported to-day:—Captain Wilkins received 1000 bbls Kanawha oil; 1200 bbls from the Venango region; and 100 bbls from Green county.)

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, December 11, 1866.

There are no new features in the produce markets worthy of special notice. The demand for Flour, Grain, and, indeed, we might say, all of the leading articles of produce, continues very light, while prices have undergone no essential change.

GRAIN—There seems to be no demand for Wheat, and in the absence of sales, we omit quotations. Corn is in rather better demand, and new crop would command 65 to 70c. Oats quiet and unchanged; may be quoted at 45 to 50, on track, and the usual advance for small lots in store. Barley continues to come in pretty freely, and prices are entirely nominal. No movement in Rye.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the market is dull and neglected, prices are nominally unchanged—$11.50 to $12 for spring Wheat; $13 to $13.50 for Winter Wheat; and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is selling at $8½ per bbl, and Buck wheat at 4½ per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is dull, and there are no established quotations. Lard is dull at 12 to 13½ for prime in kettle rendered. Nominal for Mess Pork.

APPLES—Quiet and unchanged; we can report regular sales in store at $2½ to $3½ per bbl, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Apples dull with small sales at 10 to 11 cts. Peaches may be quoted at from 18 to 22, for quarters and halves.

BUTTER—No improvement to note in the demand, and no change to make in quotations. Prime Roll is selling in small packages at 28 to 30.

EGGS—Steady with a fair demand, and regular sales at 35 to 36 for limed; and 37 to 38 for fresh packed.

CHEESE—Continues dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, but prices are nominally unchanged.

SEEDS—There is a steady demand for Flaxseed at $3 to $3.10, and but little offering. No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

POTATOES—Firm with a demand fully up to the supply, and prime Peach Blows are selling in a regular way at $1 per bushel, and $3 per bbl.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, December 11.—Dry Goods market dull and irregular, business being chiefly confined to disposal of lots offered by outside parties who are unable to hold their stocks through the continued dullness, and do not wish to risk them in the spring trade. Considerable lots of bleached goods, of few makes, are placed upon the market at 10@15 per cent. reduction from the regular price, and are quickly taken up. This has been done with Androscoggin L. goods, James Steam Mills, some of the Wamsutta, Hope Mills, &c., within the last few days. Agents are, nevertheless, firm at old prices for these same goods. It is reported that most of these goods are bought by other agents and jobbers for sale in this irregular way. Considerable business is reported in Domestics. Brown goods in less supply and firmer in all hands.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede slowly at this point with scant nine feet in the channel by the marks last evening. The weather yesterday was cloudy and cold with indications of snow. As yet, there is no ice in the river at this point, but unless the weather moderates, we may expect it very soon.

The Argosy got in from Cincinnati yesterday with a good trip, and all returns again to-day. The Leni Leoti arrived and cleared for Parkersburg, and the Grey Eagle is due here from that point this morning.

The Bellevernon cleared for St. Louis yesterday, as did also the Kenton, for New Orleans. The Bellevernon had a very fair trip, although she could have taken another hundred tons without much difficulty. The Kenton had a very fair cargo, the chief item of which was plows, and it took her several weeks to pick it up.

The Julia No. 2 got in from Cincinnati during Monday, with a fair freight list.

Capt. A. H. McGowan, late of the Savanna, has assumed command of the Leonidas, now loading for New Orleans. The Savanna has gone into winter quarters at the Allegheny landing below the suspension bridge.

The Lorena was down at the point yesterday taking on railroad iron, of which she has three hundred and fifty tons engaged. This fine steamer will doubtless be ready to leave for St. Louis this evening.—Capt. J. B. Conway in command, with Capt. Chas. Wilkins in the office.

The Kate Robinson, in command of Captain Robt. Robinson is now in turn for New Orleans, and will at once commence loading for that point.

The Argosy, Capt. Vandergrift, with Mr. W. H. Scott, in the office, is the regular Wednesday packet for Cincinnati, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

The Ida Rees, Capt. Joe. Brown, is loading for Cincinnati and Louisville.

The low boat Resolute cleared for Louisville on Monday, with nine barges of coal, and the Wild Duck may get out to-day. We learn that the Dart, in descending the falls at Louisville, on Friday last, sunk a boat of coal belonging to Chas. Miller.

There will be little, if any, destruction of steamboat property at the falls of Louisville when the low water breaks up, as it seems to be determined by all boat-owners to remove their property to places of known safety immediately after the first low water in the spring.

A young man appeared before a Board of Examiners at St. Louis for license as an engineer, and was asked: "Suppose you were put on the wheel yourself, performed every part of the work without assistance and knew that it was in complete order, but when put into a vessel it would not steer, what would you do?" The young man promptly replied: "I should go to the side of the vessel and ascertain if there was any water in the hold."

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial of Monday:

Captain R. B. Grainger's coasting steamer Osceola is fitted up and furnished in excellent style. Her accommodations are first-class in every particular. He has spared no pains or expense in making the Osceola one of the best made freely last night.....We regret to announce that the wife of the veteran Captain William Knox died suddenly at Harmar, Washington county, on her regular business trip. The steamer Silver and Gold, Capt. Knox, left Cincinnati on Saturday evening, on her regular business trip, made the run from Cincinnati to New Richmond in one hour and thirty-seven minutes. She was timed from the Newport ferry to the New Richmond wharf boat. Her time to the mouth of the Miami was thirty-one and a half minutes. Her first hour's run was to the lower side of the Big Hollow at Eyerson's below Nine-mile.

Reps and Cords.

At the recent County Fair there were exhibited a very fine collection of Manilla, Tarred, and Hemp Ropes, which attracted universal attention. We carefully examined the specimens, and could hardly believe that so important a branch of Pittsburgh manufacture received so little attention from those interested in the statistics of our commercial growth. These specimens certainly cannot be equalled by those produced by any other manufacturer in the Union; they cannot be surpassed by any other in the world. We made inquiry and learned that those specimens were upon exhibition by the Pittsburgh Rope Works, owned by Messrs. Marshall, Fulton & Bollman. These works connect the complete period of Pittsburgh manufactures with the present, and almost extend back to the foundation of our government. They were first established in 1799, and since then have gradually added to their capacities, and today stand as first in importance in the country. The specimens on exhibition were nine inch hemp rope, nine inch manilla rope, and a mammoth coil of six-inch manilla rope which was 1200 feet in length. The latter was of smooth and even texture, and faultlessly perfect. It is manufactured with the greatest of care, and from appearance will withstand the largest strain of pressure or strain. There were a number of other very beautiful specimens of rope upon exhibition, and persons engaged in any business requiring its use should examine them carefully. The firm of Marshall, Fulton & Bollman, Nos. 111 and 115 Water street, manufacture to order twine, manilla cordage, sand pump rope, American hackled hemp tarred cordage, lamp wick yarn, hemp packing, oakum, bell cords and bed cords. They are fair dealing, honorable gentlemen, and we sincerely commend them to the patronage of the public. See advertisement.
